DROP FIRE

TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

All you need to know about Drop Fire

Drop Design Fire is incredibly durable. The material is 3 mm thick cold-rolled steel which is surface-treated with high-temperature powder coating. The material of the ash pan is stainless steel. The interior of the table leg is heat-protected with mineral wool so the heat from the fireplace does not reach the leg and thus, the patio or other surfaces.

Drop Design Fire includes:

- A fireplace with a leg.
- A square cover for the fireplace that transforms the fireplace into a stylish table for the patio.

The product is delivered unassembled. A bioethanol burner is available as an additional feature for Drop Design Fire.

Additional Drop Design Bioethanol Burner

The bioethanol burner is a stainless-steel drop with a built-in ethanol container. The container's capacity is a maximum of 1.5 litres of ethanol. The container is filled from the edges of the drop or by lifting the drop by the cover and pouring the ethanol into the container. Design Fire burns for approximately 1.5 hours with 1.5 litres of ethanol.

Ethanol uses up a lot of oxygen when it burns, so make sure you have sufficient ventilation if using it in closed spaces.

The fire is put out by putting the cover on.
